Introduction

I am pleased to present the 2023 Maple Heights Fire Department annual report. It was a year of change in our organization, as Fire Chief Vito Kavaliunas retired after thirty-three years of tireless service. If ever there was someone who had a passion for the job and our department, it was him. I am grateful for his guidance and friendship and hope to meet the standards he set while holding this office.

While reviewing the stats and activities for the year, it amazes me what our firefighters do daily. At all times, they vigilantly respond to the needs of the public, whether it be for a building fire, medical emergency, or to assist a resident with a helping hand. When they are not responding to calls for help, they are training to sharpen their skills, ensuring equipment readiness, enforcing fire codes, and engaging with the community

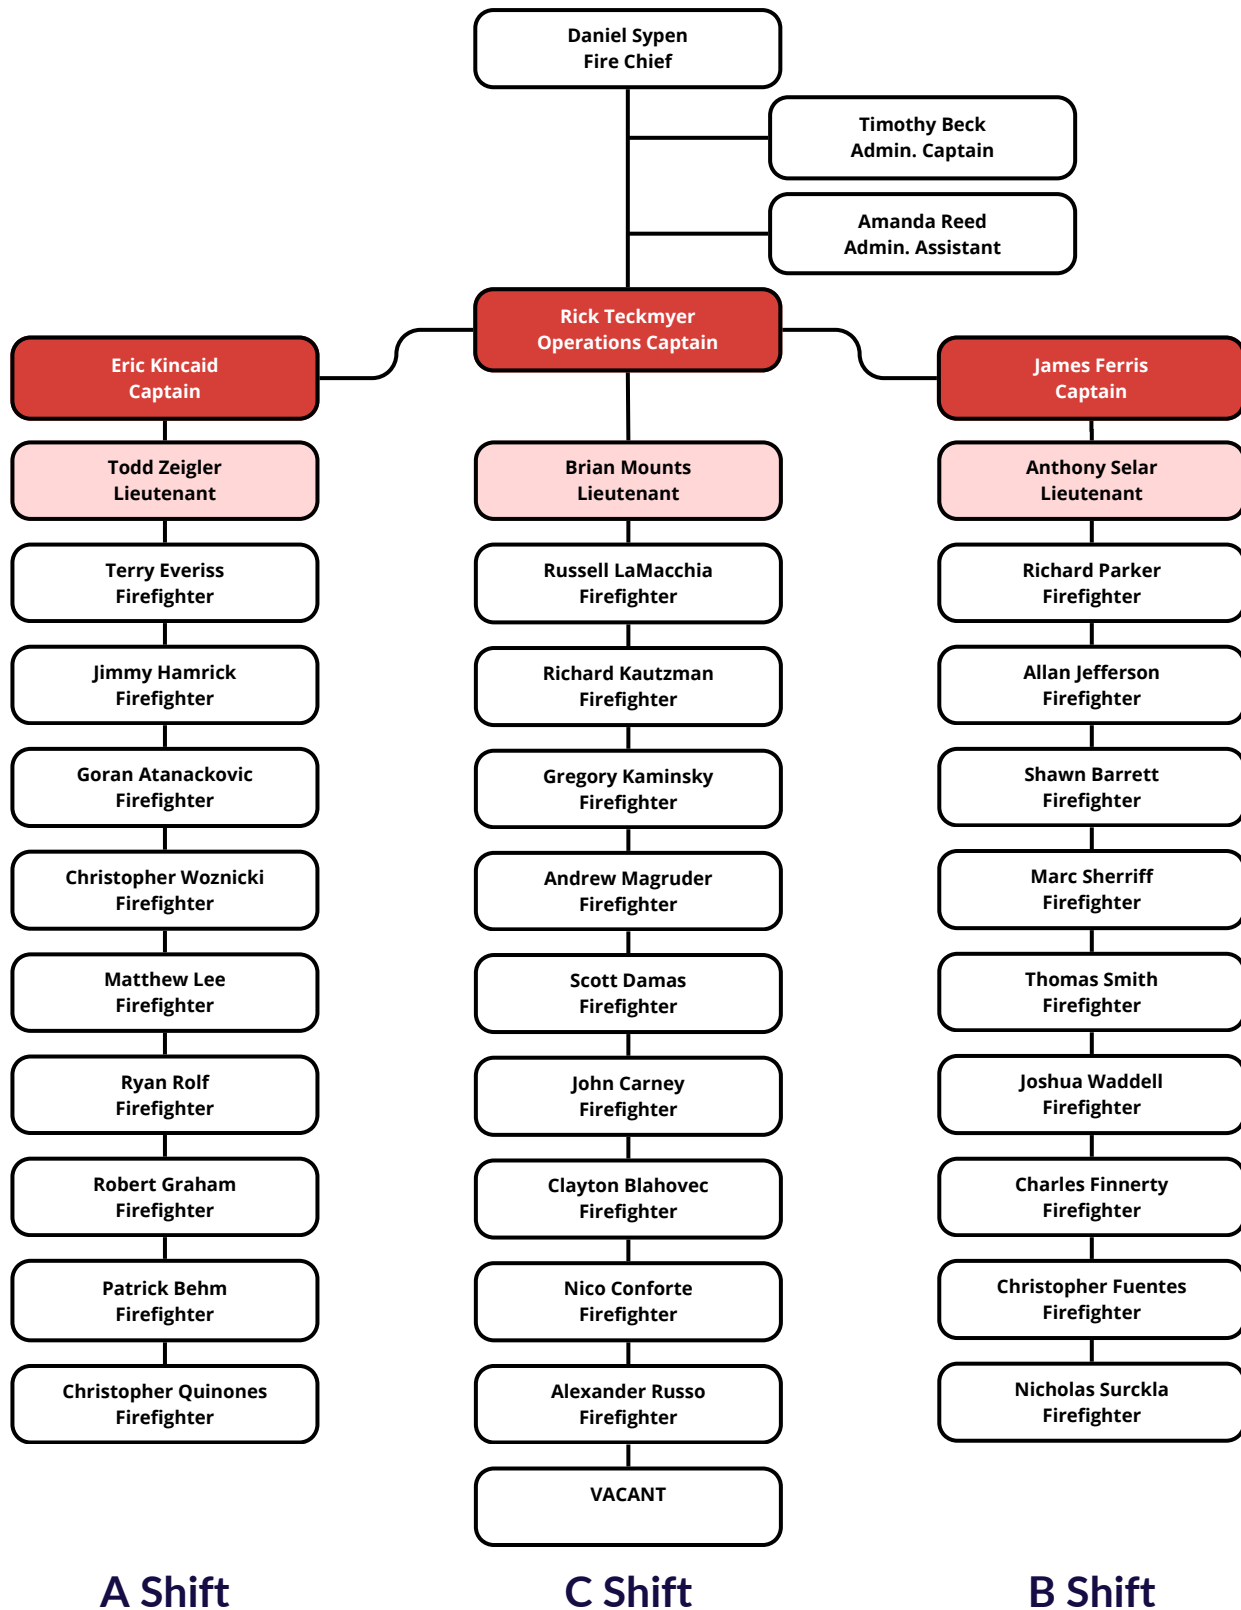

While our firefighters on the frontline are the ones most noticed by the public, there are others inside and outside the organization to ensure the success of our mission. I want to thank Administrative Assistant Amanda Reed for keeping the day-to-day business of the fire department running smoothly. I also want to thank Mayor Blackwell, the city council, and the other departments of the city who support us. So many others partner with our organization to guarantee our success. For those not mentioned here, we genuinely appreciate what you contribute to the organization.

In closing, this report shows that the Maple Heights Fire Department is as strong as ever, and I am confident that our personnel and those who partner with us will create even more success in the coming year. Thank you for taking the time to see what we accomplished in 2023.
